About the conference

3i Conference - Investment | Insurance | Innovation.

The Conference seeks to promote innovation, strengthen local and international investment linkages, and interrogate best practices to drive sustainable industry growth.

Who should attend?

This conference is designed to benefit a broad spectrum of professionals whose work intersects with risk and insurance. Key participants include senior management across the insurance sector spanning life, general, and reinsurance along with brokers, underwriters, and claims processors.

In addition, we welcome insurance officers and risk managers from various corporate environments, as well as policymakers from government agencies, regulators, and development partners within the NGO space.

The event is also highly relevant to professionals in related financial sectors, including banks, pension fund managers, securities institutions, and any other specialists whose work demands a deep engagement with risk and insurance matters.
